Introduction

The SEG Awards Level 3 Certificate of Professional Competence for Transport Managers (Road Haulage) has been developed to qualify students to be nominated as the professionally competent person on a standard operator licence in any business – large or small and engaged in national or international operations.

There are separate CPC qualifications for road haulage and for passenger transport operations. This document ONLY covers Road Haulage.

Pre-requisites

Although there are no specific entry requirements for this qualification, it is recommended that students have good English and Maths skills equivalent to Level 2 (GCSE) before they begin studying the CPC qualification at Level 3. If students are not sure of their current skill levels, they should discuss this with a training provider who can arrange an assessment of their needs.

Who Needs This Qualification

This qualification has been developed to meet the mandatory requirements of Regulation (EC) No 1071/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 October 2009. Successful completion of the Level 3 Skills and Education Group Awards Certificate of Professional Competence for Transport Managers (Road Haulage) will qualify the student to be nominated as the professionally competent person on a standard operator licence in any business, large or small, engaged in national operations.

The Learning Outcomes and Assessment Criteria of this qualification have been derived directly from Regulation (EC) No 1071/2009 and provide assessment which is comparable to the assessment provided in other EU member states. Achievement of the Certificate of Professional Competence (Road Haulage) demonstrates that the holder of the qualification is qualified to perform the effective and continuous management of undertakings engaging solely in transport operations within any EU member state.

Up until 31st January 2021, under EU law, the International versions of the Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC) qualification gained in the UK were recognised as meeting the competence requirements in all other EU member states. However, as of 1st February 2021 this is no longer the case and member states may require those with a UK CPC to take a further examination on specific aspects of transport operation which are unique to that member state if they wish to be nominated as a competent person for a business based in that country.

What Do Students Need To Do

Study for the Certificate of Professional Competence qualification will cover a wide range of topics applicable to all businesses that need to comply with road transport law. Students should base their study around the total concept of road transport operations and not limit their learning to the areas they already know, or plan to work in immediately. They will be tested in all areas of required knowledge, full details of which are given in this guide.

Note: Any aspect of the law current at the time of the examination may be tested.

To be successful in obtaining the CPC qualification, as well as studying road haulage, all students will need to study and apply information based on the law concerning business.

Students will then be required to use this knowledge to:

- > read and analyse information
- > answer direct questions on various aspects of relevant transport operations and associated laws
- > answer questions related to a case study, applying the principles of transport operations and associated laws
- > solve problems, applying various principles, rules and legislation.

The examination will include assessments where students may be required to understand and analyse information, write a series of procedures or instructions, make comments on systems and policy, and/or perform a range of mathematical calculations, applying suitable formulae and functions.

Students should be able to present their answers in a variety of formats including explanations, reports, instructions, tables and charts.

Students who wish to gain a CPC can either study in their own time or attend a training course at a CPC training centre. Skills and Education Group Awards does not endorse CPC training centres for the delivery of CPC training programmes although Skills and Education Group Awards approves centres to offer and invigilate the examination sessions. CPC training centres can be found by searching online.

Teaching Strategies and Learning Activities

Centres should adopt a delivery approach which supports the development of all individuals. The aims and aspirations of all the students, including those with identified special needs or learning difficulties/disabilities, should be considered and appropriate support mechanisms put in place.

Assessment

Skills and Education Group Awards CPC qualification consists of a single multiple-choice assessment and a single case study assessment. Both of these assessments are externally set and externally marked. Students will need to pass both assessments to gain the Certificate of Professional Competence for Road Haulage.

Centres must take all reasonable steps to avoid any part of the assessment of a learner (including any internal quality assurance and invigilation) being undertaken by any person who has a personal interest in the result of the assessment.

Multiple Choice Questions Exam (Online)

Only the use of dictionaries is permitted. Learners must not refer to any books or materials whilst taking this examination. Learners may use the online calculator if required.

Multiple Choice Questions (Paper)

Only the use of dictionaries is permitted. Learners must not refer to any books or materials whilst taking this examination. Learners may use a calculator if required.

Case Study Exam (Online/Paper)

Learners may use:

- > A calculator
- > A dictionary
- > Notes/books of their choice

Please refer to the Instructions for the Conduct of Examinations and Other External Assessment for further information.

Multiple-Choice

The multiple-choice assessment is available as a quarterly paper-based or online test.

Students are allowed 2 hours to complete the examination; however, they may leave the examination room after 30 minutes. (Depending on the number of students in the room, examination centres may find it less disruptive to prevent students from leaving during the final period of the examination, for example within the last 30 minutes.)

The multiple-choice paper consists of 60 questions each worth 1 mark and has a notional pass mark of 42.

Case Study

The case study focuses on the application of knowledge, making students more adept at the skills required in relevant transport careers. This benefits the transport industry in general by encouraging more relevantly qualified transport managers. The focus on having to explain things enables students to demonstrate that they can apply their knowledge and use relevant sources of information. This ensures that those who gain the Skills and Education Group Awards CPC are well prepared for the real world of transport management.

The case study assessment comprises a relevant scenario, (as concise as possible), which is issued with the papers at the start of the assessment (2 hours and 15 minutes). Students are allowed to take any notes or books of their choice into the case study assessment, and questions will test application of knowledge only.

The case study will only contain information that will enable the student to demonstrate application of the knowledge they have acquired. The case study paper is a 60 mark paper and has a notional pass mark of 30.

Assessment Summary

In summary, the new CPC qualification is designed to be accessible to students and to give clear guidance for centres and tutors. It is built around relevant content, giving more time to concentrate students' learning and knowledge on a pertinent range of topics. This document indicates the depth and breadth of required knowledge, understanding and skills required to achieve the qualification.

Assessment	Time Allowed	No of Questions	Available marks	Notional Pass Mark
