Inbound Education Ltd. have asked for a flat rate per trip to be quoted for all their day trips. The total revenue from all those operated at this flat rate must equal the total that would have been received if each had been priced individually.

IE have decided that if any of the day trips cannot be operated as described in their requirements in the case study, they will reduce the time spent at the destination in order to meet legal requirements.

Use the information in the case study to calculate the following:
